RUN FOR THE WALL

We ride for those who can't

(ain't what she used to be)

By John Schlageck, Kansas Farm Bureau

When I was a youngster, one of my favorite places to play was my Uncle Joe and Aunt Anna's red barn. My Uncle Bernie's farm sported a barn as well. Both were must stops when we visited our cousins.

The cluttered sanctuary of these wooden structures served up a smorgasbord of playing opportunities. Both barns offered a relaxing place, especially if it was raining or snowing outside and the weather was too bad to work.

Following World War II, farm mechanization signaled the end for many barns. Some were torn down. Others were abandoned or replaced with Quonset huts made of plywood and galvanized steel.

We didn't own a barn on our farm/ranch in Sheridan County. Instead, my dad built a machine shed and another larger building we called, "The Big Shed."

This wooden structure, complete with a tin roof and sides, measured 90-feet long. The Big Shed housed our tractors, grain drills, trucks and other farm equipment. When blessed with a bumper wheat crop, we cleared out all the machinery and filled the shed with golden grain.

But back to Uncle Joe and Aunt Anna's barn. This old, faded out, red structure wasn't built from lumber sawn from timber on the farm. Heck, on the High Plains where I grew up, farms and ranches didn't grow trees until folks drove down to the creeks, dug up cottonwood saplings, carried them back home and planted

Why were so many barns painted red?

Probably because of the available ferric oxide used to make red paint. Readily available and inexpensive, red became the choice of colors for barns.

These outbuildings, dotting the prairie countryside, rarely showcased cleanliness or order. In Uncle Joe's barn, dusty horse blankets and cobweb-covered horse collars hung from wooden pegs or rusty nails. Hay tongs also competed for space. Here and there a busted plow stock leaned against a wooden wall. Some barn corners were crowded with pitchforks and an occasional come-along. Tangled, broken, bailing twine littered the damp dirt floor mingling with the smells of rusting iron, manure and mildewed leather.

As youngsters, we hid in the hay mow (rhymes with cow) or hayloft when our parents searched for us. While wooden steps or a ladder existed to crawl up to this upper floor, we'd try to find new routes to the top. We'd risk life and limb crawling up the side of the barn grabbing onto anything that would hold our body just to wind up in the loft.

Once inside this cavernous space, we'd marvel at the wooden pattern of the rafters and shadows high over our heads. We'd vell out at the pigeons or starlings who tried to invade our private world of kid adventures.

If there were bales or scattered hay outside one of the two large doors at either end of the hayloft, we'd often make the 15-20-foot plunge into the soft landing.

Hay was hoisted up and into the barn through these doors by a system containing pulleys and a trolley that ran along a track attached to the top ridge of the barn. Trap doors in the floor allowed animal feed to be dropped into the mangers for the animals. As pre-teen youngsters, these doors also made a perfect getaway during hide and seek as we jumped through and made our escape. I loved to explore the tack room with all the bridles and saddles. Before I could ride a horse, I'd struggle to take one of the saddles off the wall, so I could place it on a sawhorse and pretend to ride like my (cowboy) hero, Roy Rogers.

And finally, who could forget the many idioms we heard about barns as children. You remember, "You couldn't hit the broad side of a barn." "Were you born in a barn?" and my favorite, "Your barn door is open."

Today, many of the oldfashioned barns we knew as kids are long gone. They're mainly memories when folks with farm and ranch backgrounds visit at family reunions and weddings. Still, these memories provide a warm glow of vesteryear. I'll never forget the bitter cold days in January when the winter winds whistled under the eaves of my Aunt Anna's barn and the icy rain played tic-tac against the cobweb-blotched windows... John Schlageck is a leading commentator on agriculture and rural Kansas. Born and raised on a diversified farm in northwestern Kansas, his writing reflects a lifetime of and experience, knowledge passion.

Over 30 motorcycle riders, including American Legion members and Sons of American Legion members, along with support vehicles and friends, made a 270-mile ride Saturday, August 4, 2018 to raise fuel funds for those who will participate in the 2019 Run For The Wall. The ride was organized by SAL member Jarrod Gerbitz of Jennings who participated in the 2018 ride from Junction City to Washington DC and by SAL Max Mizer and Kathy Tacha. The ride began at 10:30 in Jennings, stopped in Phillipsburg, Cawker City, Lebanon, Smith Center and Norton and ended at 6:30 at the Jennings American Legion. Riders were from Sargent, CO, Olathe, Garden City, Goodland, Colby, Ellsworth, Oberlin, Norton, Selden. Lenora, Oakley, New Almelo, and Jennings. The ride allowed time for brief visits to Fort Bissell in Phillipsburg, the world's largest ball of twine in Cawker City, the geographic center of the continental U.S. near Lebanon, and Veterans Park in Norton. The Norton Legion Riders and Norton American Legion met the group at Veterans Park with refreshments and a $300 donation to the cause. At the geographic center of the US in Lebanon, a chance encounter with a motorcycle riding couple from Canada also resulted in a donation to support the Run. The bikers were met by community members upon their return to Jennings to show their support and enjoy a meal together. Door prizes were donated by Doerflers Harley Davidson of Hays, Don Bolt, The Bank, and Hartzog Farms, Jennings. $2000 was raised during the Run For The Wall ride. All expenses were shared by the Jennings American Legion and Jennings Sons of the American Legion.

Vietnam veteran Jerry Hill held a fund raiser at the Grain Bin in Norcatur, June 9, 2018, which brought friends and neighbors from a large area to share food and fun, and donations of over $1400, for the gas fund.

The Run For The Wall is a yearly event organized by Vietnam Veterans 30 years ago. There are three routes crossing the US and ending at the Vietnam Memorial Wall on Memorial Day. Their statement says, "Founded by Vietnam Veterans, Run For The Wall® recognizes the sacrifices and contributions made by ALL. Come to join and ride with us as we Ride For Those Who Can't".

One of the three routes travels Interstate 70 through the Oakley, Colby, and Grainfield areas. This past year the Jennings Sons of American Legion and the Jennings American Legion Post #351 "sponsored" the Oakley gas stop and is acquiring funds to repeat the effort in 2019. Sponsored fuel stops allow those participating in the Run For The Wall (more than 1000 riders) to fill their bike tanks free of charge. The information about the Run states, "Veterans of recent conflicts, those currently on Active Duty, Non-Veteran Supporters, and Patriots are especially welcome.

ALERT!!! THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

IN TOOLS & MORE STOLEN FROM LOCAL BUSINESSES Sheridan County residents, you need to keep your eyes open. As many of you have heard, we have had several shops burglarized in the last week. The same types of businesses have been broken into all around the northwest Kansas area. Many thousands of dollars of tools and other items have been stolen, and it looks as though they are more than a little familiar with the schedules of the businesses and where specific items are located; and they come ready to haul as much as they can, most likely with a pickup or other large vehicle. If you see anything call 911 to alert the police immediately.

Jennings has received some very nice rains in the past three weeks. We received nearly an inch on Sunday evening. With all the storm warnings out, we have been very fortunate to get the nice rains only.

A reminder that Jennings

Fireman's Fun Day is coming up on August 25. There will be more details in the coming weeks.

There will be no Sunflower Senior citizens dinner on Wednesday, August 8. We are hoping to resume our regular schedule starting in September.

Hoxie Medical Clinic Celebrates Safety Net Clinic Week

Healthcare Appreciation to EMS, Police/ Sheriff, Fire Department, Providers, Nurses, Public

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16

Ag Worker Appreciation Take a moment to thank all of those who work in Agriculture; WE appreciate you!

In 2017, nearly 1 in 10 Kansans received comprehensive health care from a safety net clinic, regardless of their ability to pay. "Safety net clinics play a vital role in our communities by contributing to the local economy, reducing preventable hospitalizations and unnecessary emergency room visits, and improving the health and well-being of all Kansans," said Denise Cyzman, Chief Executive Officer, Kansas Association for the Medically Underserved.

Hoxie Medical Clinic is involved in reaching out to our community through education and making access to health care easy and affordable. We now have four full time medical providers and often have same day appointments available. Office visits can cost as little as $20 for those on our Sliding Fee Scale. We recently integrated Behavioral Health and have two Behavioral Consultants on site to meet with patients in a timely manner.

Kansas Safety Net Clinic Week is celebrated in concurrence with National Health Center Week - the recognition of Community, Migrant, Homeless and Public Housing Health Centers nationwide. Health centers began as a pilot project during President Lyndon Johnson's War on Poverty initiative. Their more than 50-year record of success not only includes preventing illness in underserved populations, but also moving beyond includes traditional medicine to provide innovative whole-person solutions to correlational health indicators, such as lack of nutrition, mental illness, homelessness and addiction.

Summer Foods

Let the diet throughout the heated term be largely of vegetables and fruits. Remember that milk is a food and not a beverage; that butter-milk is a most wholesome and cooling drink for hot weather and will take the place of heavy food to our good.

Chicken and Nut Salad - Mix two cupfuls of minced chicken with one cupful of finely cut celery and a half cupful of nut-meats, either walnuts or almonds, browned in the oven, with a bit of butter and salt and a dash of red pepper. Moisten with mayonnaise and serve on

A bunch or two of small seed onions cooked in boiling water and served in a thin white sauce makes a wholesome vegetable for a noon meal.

Orange Ice - Make a sirup of four cupfuls of water, two cupfuls of sugar, the grated rind of two oranges and cook 20 minutes, strain and cool, add two cupfuls of orange juice and a fourth of a cupful of lemon juice.

Coffee Date Pudding - Soak half a box of gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water. Add one pint of boiling coffee and half a cupful of sugar. Drain and cool. When almost set add one-half pound of chopped dates and half a cupful of walnut meats. Serve with cream.

Mushroom Omelet - Cook mushrooms in butter and add to the omelet just before folding. Garnish with some of the mushrooms cooked in butter.

Raspberry Whip - Beat the white of an egg with a cupful of powdered sugar and one and a half cupfuls of crushed raspberries together 30 minutes. Pile in the center of a platter and heap whipped cream around the edge. Serve with macaroons.

Strawberries or any fruit that will crush may be used for this dessert. The fruit with too much juice should be drained a little. For the Family of Two

So many find that dividing the recipe gives poor results, and that roasts are out of the question unless one desired to spend the week on one kind of meat. There is no reason why a small family should not indulge in a roast if it is given thought before its preparation. This is a good time to have guests to enjoy a juicy roast, and if that is not convenient after serving a roast for Sunday a portion may be warmed in the gravy with the addition of jelly if it is mutton or lamb, and tomato, Worcestershire sauce or onion if beef or veal. The mashed potatoes left over may be make into potato patties and served well browned in a little fat.

The Normal Ball. Remember the date - August 16. Best of music.

The farmers have all been very busy this week cutting their small grain and putting it in stacks.

We return our thanks to Mrs. A. E. Saathoff of Logan township, for a pan full of variegated Moss roses.

The Post Office Book Store has put in a new stock of school books, tablets, ink stands, inks, and everything usually found in a well kept book store.

Charley Smith arrived Monday, from Belleville, with his household goods and is now located in the house formerly occupied by Sam'l P. Davidson.

Luke Miley and wife of Elliott, were trading in the city last Friday. Luke said that it was too wet to run the binder, and he had nothing else to do but to come to town.

J. C. Houser of Spring Brook, was a Hoxie visitor on Saturday. Jake says that his crops this year are immense and hopes that such could be raised every year in the future.

A little stranger of the female persuasion and of the regulation weight, came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Woollums in Bow Creek township, on last Friday morning. All parties concerned are reported as doing well.

Joe Teeters of Sheridan, whiled away a few hours in the city Saturday.

Sherm Herren of Solomon, was transacting business in the city Monday. Sherm had a big smile on his countenance caused by the numerous stacks of small grain he has on his farm.

Frank Wilson, who owns three quarter sections of as fine land in this county as the sun ever shown on, and who left it three years ago and went back to his old home in Hancock county, arrived in the city last Saturday. We do not blame Frank for going back, as when he left his Illinois home for Kansas, he left behind him a mighty fine girl which he had a hankering after for a life companion, and the only way to get her, was to go back and lead her to the hymenal alter, which he did, but we do blame him for staying away so long. He informed us that the corps where he is now located, is nowhere to be compared with those in this county, and that the hay crop, which the farmers back there bank on, is a complete failure. Frank lives on a rented farm for which he pays $500 cash rent, and his hay crop no good, it will as he admits, push him to come out whole. In this, we do not pity him, as he should have come out here last fall and put out a crop on his own land, and then he would have been in the swim and not in the hole, and the best thing that he can do is to go back and get his wife and come back to his home in Sheridan county, which will raise the year crops enough of all kinds to supply the whole state.

evening, Tuesday Studley Home Guards drilled on Main St., and a good sized crowd gathered to watch the boys maneuver and each knew his place like a trained soldier.

The success of this organization is due to the efforts of Harry Pratt, a Spanish War vet., who organized and drilled the company.

Hoxie people were grateful to the boys for their presence. Beers' Store Burglarized Tuesday Evening

Can you believe this weather? It's awesome to see everything so green this time of year! My only worry with all the rain is it could make the dove opener a bit tough. But I'll wager we'll figure them out pretty quickly.

Got out for the evening on Friday. Several bites with one small catfish caught. He's still swimming too! I use large equipment, big hooks and big baits. And, yet, I catch a catfish that might have weighed a half-pound. Kinda depressing if you ask me.

Fishing reports are about the same. Bigger catfish being caught at Milford, Lacyne, and the Marais des Cygnes river. Also, the Kansas river and the Rocky Ford area are turning on. I still think the fall is the best time for big

Some of my best memories are with my kids. My son's first deer, my girls catching fish, my youngest daughter goose hunting in the freezing cold, and not once complaining. When she was small she wanted her own duck call. I told her when she called in a flock with my call, I'd get her one. She played that flock like a fine fiddle! I'll never forget that. Hunting wise, don't give them a gun that beats the tar out of them. My dad did that, and to this day I still won't own a 16-gauge shotgun. My daughter shoots my 20-gauge over under very well. One of these days, we need to get her her own gun, so I get mine back!

It's always fun watching kids catch fish, and they don't have to be big. Think numbers and ease of catching. That's what hooks a kid!

Heritage Center Works on Country Schools Project

The Grinnell-Angelus Area Heritage Center is asking for your help. Now that the 100year anniversary of World War is winding down, they are beginning to work on a new display which will feature the country schools that became a part of the Grinnell and Angelus school districts.

They are looking for any photographs and information of the buildings, students and former teachers of these schools. These include schools in Gove, Sheridan and Thomas counties.

Some of these districts are Enterprise and East Pleasant Hill in Thomas County and Zion, Scheetz, Scott, Fairview, Lonely Hill, Sunny Side, Pleasant Ridge and #82 in Sheridan County. There may be others.

In Gove County some are West and East Sunny Slope, Orion, Pleasant View, Star, Union, Coin, Plum Creek, Liberty Star, Pleasant Valley, Sleep Hollow, Antelope Ridge, Wilson, West Big Creek, North Hackberry, Glendale, and any other country schools which might have sent students to Grinnell.

Their mission is to gather, classify, and preserve a wide variety of artifacts from the communities of Grinnell, Angelus, Campus, Orange and Orion and to provide a place where people can access them. Now is the time to preserve the history of the area. If you can help, contact Judy Hart at 824-3458 or Lynette Wolf at 824-3743 or bring them in to the Heritage Center on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2-4. ### Grainfield Opera House Presents Brock Wagoner

Brock was born and raised in Colby, Ks. Brock has been involved in music since his youth. He began performing at the age of six, singing the National Anthem at basketball games, singing at weddings and as he got older performing and playing in a local band. He discovered his love for writing and recording music when he was in high school and continued this love in college. After taking a recording class in college, he purchased his first recording software and began writing and recording music from home. Not only does Brock enjoy writing music, he also loves playing different instruments: piano, drums, acoustic guitar, bass guitar, and keytar are just a few of the instruments he enjoys. Brock has recorded a 3 song EP in Nashville at Red Ridge Entertainment. Some of the players on his songs were Kevin Grantt who has tracked bass for artists like Craig Morgan, Brad Paisley and Josh Turner. Brock was also a National Finalist in Season 35 of the Country Showdown. He was one of five in the country and ended up in the top 2. They had roughly 50,000 entries for the Country Showdown for season 35. His favorite thing to do is play music with his father, Jeff Wagoner. They hope you enjoy their music as well as their love for it! Everyone welcome Sunday afternoon ₽ Preserving the written history of Sheridan County and surrounding areas.

Water Technology Field Days

Irrigation Equipment Demonstrations Vary by Site

Technology keeps evolving to help crop producers make every drop of water count on the fields. To demonstrate the latest in crop irrigation technology, farmers in numerous counties are teaming with the Kansas Water Office and Kansas State University to present Water Technology Field Days in several locations in August.

"I'm pleased to see the growing interest in Water Technology Farms across the state," said Kansas Water Office Director Tracy Streeter. "We continue to see outcomes from these farms suggesting that water use reductions, coupled with irrigation technology adoption and water management improvements are leading to positive effects on the aguifer as well as the producer's bottom line."

The field days are designed for producers to see how the newest research and technology is being applied in real-life settings in different areas of the state. Three more Water Technology Farm projects were implemented in 2018 with a total of 10 Water Technology Farm projects, on more than 35 fields overlying the High Plains Aquifer.

The upcoming field day dates and locations include:

* Aug. 7 - Pawnee County - WaterPACK & ILS Farm - 2

* Aug. 15 - Finney County -Garden City Co. & Roth Farm

* Aug. 16 – Harvey County – Weber Farm – TBD

* Aug. 16 - Sedgwick County - Jacob Farm - TBD

* Aug. 28 – Finney County – T&O Farms - 10 a.m.

* Aug. 28 - Seward County -Hatcher Land & Cattle – 2 p.m. * Aug. 29 – Sherman County – NW KS Tech College Farms – 9 a.m. (multiple events) * Aug. 30 - Scott County -

Circle Č Farms - 10 a.m.

* Aug. 30 – Wichita County – Long Water Tech Farm – 5 p.m. * Aug. 31 - Ford County -

Harshberger Farm – 10 a.m. For the second year Northwest Kansas Technical College is also participating by providing learning and development workforce training for its students. Northwest Kansas Technical College's Precision Agriculture department and landowners in the surrounding counties have partnered to develop 10 Water Technology Farm projects. In these projects, the students and landowners receive infield training and hands on implementing experience water efficiency technologies. With supplier partnerships, students will be exposed to multiple types of soil moisture probes, pivot controls, irrigation scheduling systems and other water management tools.

KWO provides financial assistance to Kansas State University's efforts to give technical support to each technology farm. K-State is deeply involved in establishing and monitoring the farms to help answer the producers' specific questions and concerns about the new technology.

"K-State is working with partners to help address questions concerns and about the new irrigation technologies, so in the future, farmers will fully embrace the technology appropriate for their operation and situation," said Jonathan Aguilar, water resource engineer with K-State Research and Extension, based in Garden City, Kansas. "Each farm is set up slightly different, depending on the primary concern the producer has. For example, one farm has three adjacent spans with different modes of application for comparison purposes. In most fields, soil moisture sensors are installed and tested for accuracy as feedback or for its performance in the different soil types."
